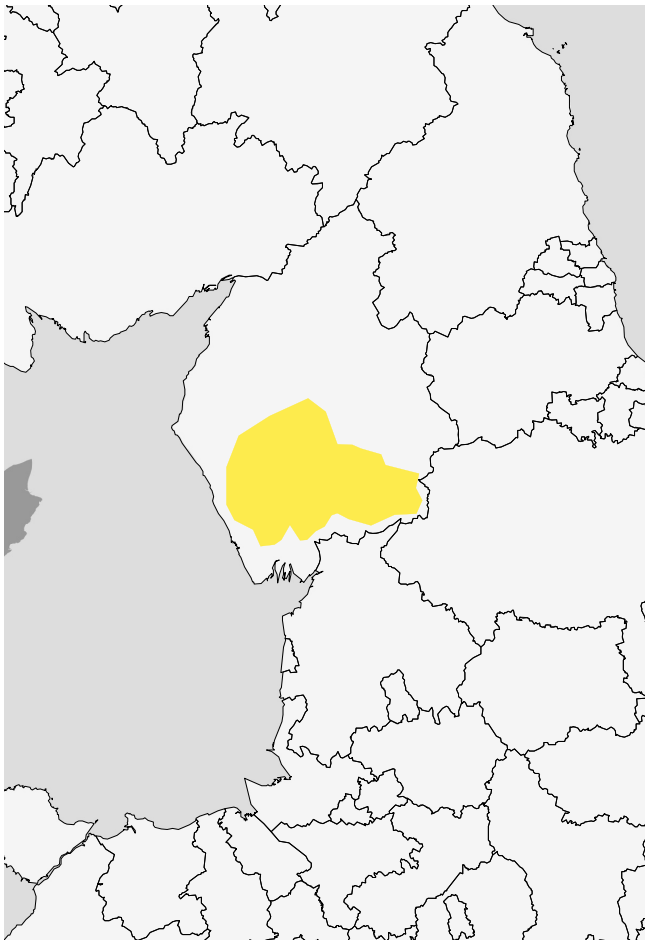
Yellow warning
Rain

Between
00:00 Thu 7 Dec 2023 and
19:00 Thu 7 Dec 2023



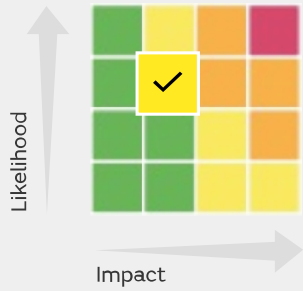
Persistent and at times heavy rain, along with some snow melt, likely to lead to some disruption to travel in places.

What to expect

- Spray and flooding on roads and perhaps railways probably making journey times longer
- Flooding of a few homes and businesses is possible

Further details

Rain setting in on Wednesday evening, will turn heavier for a time overnight, and then again during Thursday afternoon, before clearing during the evening. 20-40 mm of rain is likely quite widely, with 50 to 80 mm possible on some of the southern fells. Snow melt from the fells is likely to boost river flow in places, and a few places might see drainage affected by recent snow ploughing, all increasing the possibility of a few flood impacts.



Medium likelihood of low impacts

What should I do?

Give yourself the best chance of avoiding delays by checking road conditions if driving, or bus and train timetables, amending your travel plans if necessary. If possible, allow extra time.

Be prepared for weather warnings to change; the Met Office recommends staying up to date with the weather forecast in your area.

Check if your property could be at risk of flooding. If so, consider preparing a flood plan and an emergency flood kit.
